COMMUNITY COUNTS

Many people are responsible for the success of the HBPD's Homeless Task Force. The police officers who make repeated contacts and establish the necessary relationships with the homeless play a vital role. Nonprofits who provide housing are indispensable. Volunteers who do outreach with the HBPD supply hands-on assistance. The Office of Business Development helps with placement assistance and education. Churches and their volunteers provide spiritual food and support. You donate when asked. This is our community within the community and each component is vital.

PASSING ON THEIR THANKS...

Recently two requests for assistance were sent out and you did not disappoint. Tina, who had just received full custody of her son, was in need. We received generous donations to help her maintain her apartment. She asked that we express her thanks to you.

Although she is not ready to transition out of her vehicle, Veronica was humbled to the point of tears when she discovered money was donated to assist with her vehicle registration. She was also overjoyed at the donation of dog food. Employment leads were provided and we are keeping in touch with her weekly.

IF ANYONE IS INTERESTED IN DONATING ONE DAY BUS PASSES, WE COULD USE THEM. PLEASE SEE THE FOLLOWING LINK FOR LOCATIONS FROM WHICH TO PURCHASE THEM.

A NOTICEABLE DENT IN THE HOMELESS POPULATION WILL NOT TAKE PLACE OVERNIGHT, NOR SHOULD WE EXPECT SUCH. THE ISSUE IS TOO COMPLEX. YET OUR SUCCESSES DO REVERBERATE.

12 HOMELESS
OFF THE STREETS

The month of May has been incredibly busy and we have been incredibly fortunate. We were able to assist seven people with housing, which included temporary and long-term placement. In addition, five others, including one six year old, were reunited with family members in other states.

Due to multiple contacts with the homeless, Officer Ricci and Officer Schloss are able to build trust with those who are willing to change the trajectory of their lives

IN THE NEXT ISSUE, WE LOOK FORWARD TO INTRODUCING EVERYONE TO SOME OF OUR WONDERFUL OUTREACH WORKERS FROM COAST TO COAST FOUNDATION.
