TRUSTEES' MEETING MONDAY EVENING

Ordinance Passed Licensing All Business and Professions; Keys to City Will Be Given to Mayors of Surrounding Cities; Dancing Under Municipal Supervision Discussed.

At the regular meeting of the City Trustees Monday evening, the following city officials were present: President of the Board E. E. French; Trustees W. E. Tarbox, D. W. Huston, M. E. Helms; City Clerk C. R. Nutt; City Engineer G. W. Spencer; City Marshal and Superintendent of Streets John Tinsley; City Attorney H. C. Head.

Ordinances Considered.
The ordinance licensing all lines of business and professions which has been discussed for the past two months was up for final passage and after being considered about an hour and a half was adopted by unanimous vote.

The popcorn wagon will no longer be seen along any of the public streets or alleys of Huntington Beach, as under the provisions of this ordinance this line of business is eliminated from the public thoroughfares. Under the terms of the ordinance most lines of business which have been established for one year pay a license for the privilege of doing business of $1, and new business firms will have to pay $15 for the same privilege, except plumbers, and in this line the new man is compelled to pay $25 initiation fee, and $1 thereafter. Confectioners, transfer, and feed and fuel men will have to pay $15 to start a new business, and the regular fee of $1 afterwards. Pool rooms pay $15 annually. Doctors and dentists will pay $1. Peddlers, who are residents, will pay $12 per year, and those who reside elsewhere will have to pay $25 for the same privilege.

An ordinance was given first reading, calling a special election to vote on a proposition of voting the sum of $4,500 for an improved fire service for Huntington Beach.

was present, and withdrew his application, saying that as he said C. M. Wardman, who had previously filed an application for the same position, both stood on one leg, he did not care to enter the contest against him, and therefore asked permission to withdraw his application, and also saying that he would be glad to help Mr. Wardman in any way he might be able to do so, to secure the appointment.

As this leaves Mr. Wardman as the only applicant, there appears to be little doubt but what he will be given the position, providing the city trustees decide that such an official is necessary.

Olson Will Furnish Seats.
President French stated that Carl Olson, the furniture man, had offered to furnish some seats for the pier, and as there was no objection, Mr. Olson was given the opportunity of accommodating some of those who desire to rest while out on the pier.

Municipal Dancing Discussed.
W. C. O'Connor, of the firm of T. B. Talbot & Co., was present, and took up the matter of dancing with the board. Mr. O'Connor said that some amusements must be furnished if visitors continue to come to this beach, and he considered dancing one of the greatest and most inexpensive attractions that the city could offer to pleasure seekers.

City Clerk Nutt asked what the churches would say if the city endorsed dancing. Trustee Tarbox stated that new people were required if the churches hoped to increase their membership, and to bring additional population some amusements must be provided. This view was endorsed by President French and Trustee Huston; Trustee Helms expressed no decided opinion on the subject, and his decision was taken by the board.

CRESCENT THEATER HAS NEW PROPRIETOR.

W. P. HARRISON WILL ASSUME CHARGE MONDAY MORNING.

The Crescent theater has been sold by M. C. Adams to W. P. Harrison, of Los Angeles, and Mr. Adams will hand over the keys to the new owner next Monday morning. Mr. Harrison and Trustee Huston are old friends and it was through the influence of the big trustee that Mr. Harrison decided to locate in Huntington Beach.

Mr. Harrison has taken the house recently vacated by Guy S. Miles, on Sixth street. He has a wife and one grown daughter, and a son 16 years of age. The theater will be renovated and the front will be changed and the place made to present a more inviting appearance. Mr. Harrison was formerly a resident of Winfield, Ia., the old Iowa home of Trustee Huston.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH CHOIR CONCERT BIG SUCCESS

Home Talent Delights Large and Appreciative Audience Wednesday Evening at Tent City Auditorium; Clarence Hunt and Miss Gleaves the Stars; Will Appear At Newport Tonight.

One of the best amateur concerts given in Huntington Beach in many a day was the one at the Tent City Auditorium Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Christian church choir.

The highly successful affair was under the personal direction of Miss Leona Mudgett, musical instructor at the Huntington Beach Union High school, and the entertainment reflects much credit upon Miss Mudgett's ability along musical lines. Fred Gallienne had charge of the advertising part of the concert, and Will Gallienne was treasurer.

The concert was given at Westminster, Tuesday evening, and will be given at Newport this (Friday) evening. There is one feature about this concert that is worthy of special mention and that is that these prominent young people are not afraid of the number 13, as the last number on their interesting program was the great hoodoo thirteen, and the highly successful termination of the event explodes the suspicion that has heretofore surrounded this innocent combination of figures.

The stage was nicely decorated with wild mustard, geraniums and roses. A large and appreciative audience was present and applauded the actors in a highly flattering manner.

The first number on the "Thirteen" program was a chorus by the choir composed of the following: Sopranos, Miss Verne Worthy, Miss Zulu Elkins, Miss Pearl Porter, Miss Frances Porter, Miss Gladys Leatherman; altos, Miss Margaret Metcalf, Miss Amy Helms, Miss Frankie Double; tenors, Will Gallienne, Clarence Hunt, Fred Gallienne; bass, Lawrence Worthy, Frank Catching, Forest Turner.

The choir appeared on the stage with Miss Metcalf leading, and pro-not in earnest. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Amy Helms.

Male Quartet.

The male quartet, Will Gallienne, Clarence Hunt, Fred Gallienne and Lawrence Worthy, rendered "Come O'er the Sea" and the "Vikings" and were highly appreciated, and on each occasion responded to a hearty encore. These young men presented a fashion plate appearance on the stage, being dressed alike with the exception of the coat worn by Fred Gallienne; being attired in light trousers, dark blue coats and black ties, and looked as though they might have all jumped out of the same band box.

When answering the last encore they appeared without coats, and their dress was identical, except Mr. Worthy did not have sleeve holders about his arms. There is very little difference in their height, except Mr. Worthy, who is slightly taller than the others. The young men all have splendid voices and with proper training should be able to interest a more critical audience.

A Most Interesting Reading.

If there are any amateur performers in this section of California, who can render a better reading than Miss Clyde Gleaves, instructor of elocution at the High school, they have not been discovered. Her general stage appearance, voice and action, being well high perfect, and on this occasion she was as cool as a whole patch of cucumbers, and held her auditors spellbound; and there is little doubt but what she is capable of interesting any audience that she might choose to appear before.

Baritone Solo.

The highest honors of the evening were showered upon the brow of Clarence Hunt, after he rendered "Senora" and they were well earned, as his appearance on the stage as a
