Date/Time of Occurrence: January 8, 2012 at 12:10 PM Case Number: 12-000413

Details:

On January 8, 2012, at about 12:10 PM, Huntington Beach police officers received information of a possible dead body in a recreation vehicle parked in a driveway in the 8300 block of Danbury Circle. The police officers contacted the residents and verified there was a dead body inside the vehicle.

The adult son of the residents had been living in the vehicle. The 38 year old adult son is Ean Keith Brown. He had recently been released from prison and was on parole. Huntington Beach police officers, detectives and several outside agencies started an intensive search to locate Ean Keith Brown.

At around 4:00 PM, the San Bernardino County Sheriff Department and the California Highway Patrol initiated a vehicle pursuit of Ean Keith Brown in his vehicle north bound on the 15 Freeway. The CHP was able to stop the pursuit just short of the Nevada state border. Ean Keith Brown was arrested and turned over to detectives with the Huntington Beach Police Department.

Ean Keith Brown was booked for murder and violation of his parole in the Huntington Beach Police Department city jail and is being held without bail.

The deceased victim is a 21 year old female resident of Huntington Beach. Her name is not being released at this time pending notification of her next of kin. The cause and manner of death has not been determined at this time and this is still an active criminal investigation.
